Judge’s comments: “With music being such an audiovisual experience, I was very impressed with how you utilized your video to tell the story of your audio. The time lapse at the beginning, in particular, was a fun and smart inclusion. My only point of advice would have been to have your subjects (the Solis brothers) perhaps introduce themselves—either via voice over or on camera—sooner than they did. Regardless, a very well produced piece with crisp audio, tight visuals and a well written story tying it all together. Very well done. Also, the courtesy photos are amazing and ties everything together!”
