Judge’s comments: “The website went through a significant redesign this year, and the results are very impressive! The design is user friendly, the brand identity is strong, and the section heads at the top of the page are generally strong indicators of the flow of the home page. If I would make one recommendation, I would suggest that the home page be edited to add a sports section header on the home page, as well as the most recent two or three sports stories. I did notice that section was missing from the landing page, although a sports story was in the slider at the top and there is a well-balanced mix of athletics-related stories in the sports section.

Overall, this is an excellent redesign and a pride-worthy accomplishment for the students who dedicated so much time, effort and work. I look forward to watching its continued evolution.”
