Judge’s comments: “This well-designed, user-friendly website is a wealth of information for both casual readers and deep-diving investigators. Its clean appearance and color palette guide readers easily through the navigation process, and I appreciate that it offers easy access to current content, print archives and the paper’s social media profiles. The weather widget is a particularly nice, and unique, touch. I would anticipate that this website would be a relatively easy revenue generator, as its blocks look could easily accommodate either banner or rectangle ads. Nicely done!”
